

Phreaky Physics! Demonstration Show

IU Undergraduate Physics Club

The IU Undergraduate Physics Club will thrill you with their highly popular demonstration lecture , which will include the perilous bed of nails, the Physics Department Rocket Car streaking across the auditorium, soda cans ripped asunder by magnetic fields, and catastrophically imploding oil drums. The shows are suitable for children in grades 1-12 as well as college students and adults.